your husband he has a great sister.

The friendly approach will build bridges instead of fences. You'll probably wind up genuinely liking Amy when she reacts favorably to your kindness.

Dear Ann: I feel stupid asking this question because I should probably know the answer, but I don't.

My wife passed away two months ago. She was only 33. I took off my wedding band a few days after the funeral and it is still in my drawer.

A few days ago my wife's sister took me to the side after church and said, "You could have waited at least until Mary's body was cold before you started to shop around for a new wife." I was shocked and asked her what she meant by that. She said I should still be wearing my wedding band, and she was hurt to see that I had taken it off so soon.

Is she right? Please tell me. I am — VERY DISTURBED

Dear Disturbed: She was wrong and it was cruel of her to attack you in such a manner. A widower is not married. You were right to put your wedding ring in the drawer.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) Copyright 1959, Field Enterprises, Inc.

Local Girls at World Fellowship Rites in Washington, D.C. Today

In keeping with the custom started in 1948, the YWCA of the U.S.A. will keynote the American celebration of World Fellowship Week with an observance in the Washington, D.C., Cathedral today. As this also marks the closing event of the National Y-Teen Conference, local members will participate. Attending the service from the Harbor Area Association will be Flora Watson, Betty Blackstone, Susan Saari, Lellani Nishimoto, Judi Benson, and Bette Harris, and Mrs. Mary Eckland.

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, and former president of Ohio Wesleyan University, will be the speaker. "His address will be based on the theme of this year's World Fellowship Observance, 'Make Known His Deeds', Mrs. John J. McCloy chairman of the National World Fellowship Observance announces.

The local delegation will be among the more than 2000 YWCA representatives across the country as well as from countries overseas at the service. Special guests will be members of the diplomatic corps, Congress, and other branches of the Federal Government.

As the highlight of the national and international observance, Y-Teens, the 12 to 17-year-old members of the YWCA, representing each state of the union, will participate in a gift-bringing ceremony at the Washington Cathedral. Gifts will include contributions of YWCA members in the United States to strengthen World Fellowship and to aid the YWCA's work in countries overseas.

Proceeding the Cathedral ceremony His Excellency, Dr. You Chan Yang, and Madame Yang will receive guests at the Korean Embassy. The Ambassador and his wife have been close to YWCA work in Korea and know well the program there. As the Embassy will be able to receive no more than two guests from the total Association, two of the local group will be attending.

World Fellowship Week is observed annually in November by the YWCA in the 1600 communities in the United States and in the 71 countries where there is YWCA work, as a special time for prayers for peace and redemption to the Christian Purpose of the YWCA.

The Wilmington Branch will hold a World Fellowship event on Friday, Nov. 20, at the home of Dr. Primitiva Demandante, 29068 Clevis Road, San Pedro, at 8 p.m. At this time there will be a panel on the World Council meeting. This will be presented by three members who attended the Visitors Program: Dr. Frances Clark, Mrs. Marion Young, and Jeannette Patchin.
